

THE VANCOUVER SUN

B.C. wine of the week: LaStella Fortissimo 2010, Osoyoos, Okanagan Valley

BY ANTHONY GISMONDI, SPECIAL TO THE SUN AUGUST 13, 2013

LaStella Fortissimo 2010, Osoyoos, Okanagan Valley, $35

LaStella Fortissimo
2010, Osoyoos,
Okanagan Valley, $35

A mix of Merlot, cabernet franc, cabernet sauvignon and sangiovese this dry, slightly tannic red is packed full of cassis, prune, cranberry, smoky, resin, espresso, black olive flavours. There is solid finesse here in a tough vintage (good winemaking) but it needs another two to four years in the bottle to reach its peak. Grilled meats are the answer now.

© Copyright (c) The Vancouver Sun

ANTHONY GISMONDI

WINE OF THE WEEK

LaStella Fortissimo 2010,
Osoyoos, Okanagan Valley
Price: $35 | Score: 88/100
UPC: 808755009091

A mix of Merlot, Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon and Sangiovese, this dry, slightly tannic red is packed full of cassis, prune, cranberry, smoky, resin, espresso, black olive flavours. There is solid finesse here in a tough vintage (good winemaking) but it needs another two to four years in the bottle to reach its peak. Grilled meats are the answer now.

